Overview

Dual-function fun is the star of this ping pong table from District Eight. Its light minimalist design channels industrial features like an oak plane top, cast iron legs and a leather sling net attached with steel clamps, which can be easily removed to become a dining table that seats 12. The table comes with a pair of wooden paddles, featuring small leather band details on the handles. District Eight handcrafts classic games, reimagined with quality materials and dedicated artisanship in a unique blend of fun and functionality.
