

Lydia Slipcover Dining Chair Beige

Dinner runs long — good. Lydia is the dining chair that’s happy to linger, with curved arms and a slipcovered look that feels tailored, not precious. Wrapped in 100% polyester over foam cushioning and a plywood frame, it balances lounge-level comfort with everyday practicality. Inverted pleats and a snug fit keep the profile tidy, while the included lumbar pillow supports your back. Nylon casters glide you in and out with ease, so Lydia stays in step from first course to final pour.

- Curved-Arm Comfort: Traditional-inspired curved arms and a relaxed silhouette bring a welcoming seat to the table, whether you’re eating or lingering.

- Supportive Core Build: Foam cushioning and a plywood frame create a steady, comfortable sit, finished with subtle inverted pleats for tailored detail.
- Roll-And-Relax Base: Nylon casters help you scoot in smoothly and reposition without lifting, while the included lumbar pillow keeps your back supported.
