

Baldur End Table - Marble Look

112830

Carved from concrete with a faceted pedestal base, the Baldur End Table takes the character of quarried stone into any living space. Its cylindrical support meets a rounded top, the geometric edges catching light and shadow across the surface, revealing veining and tonal shifts that echo the look of natural marble. The substantial presence and compact footprint allow it to function both as an end table or a sculptural accent.
